

CONTENTS

CHAPTER	PAGE
PREFACE..... Julia L. Hahn, Helen Heffernan
I. A SUMMARY AND IMPLICATIONS OF NEWER TRENDS
William H. Burton	1
The Historical Development of Traditional Instructional
Stereotypes	2
Efforts at Improvement of Traditional Methods.....	4
Modern Efforts to Create New Instructional Procedures.....	8
Bibliography	20
II. RENEWED EMPHASIS ON DEMOCRATIC SOCIAL LIVING
Ernest O. Melby	21
Unitary Conception of Democracy.....	22
Nature of Educative Process.....	23
Is Our Education Democratic?.....	23
Do We As Teachers Believe in Democracy?.....	24
Weakness of Isolated Verbal Education.....	25
Role of Teacher and School.....	27
Administration	27
Group Educational Activities.....	29
Opportunities for Self-Expression.....	32
Human Relationships.....	33
The School; A Laboratory for Democratic Social Living.....	35
Bibliography	37
III. MENTAL HYGIENE EMPHASIS IN INSTRUCTIONAL PRACTICE
E. T. McSwain	38
What is the Obligation of a School in a Democracy?.....	38
The Quality and Function of Instructional Practice.....	39
An Interpretation of Mental Hygiene.....	41
Teaching as Instruction or Guidance.....	44
Examination of the Effect of Some Instructional Practices...	46
Conclusion	54
Bibliography	55
IV. WIDER UTILIZATION OF THE ENVIRONMENT, Helen Heffernan	57
Selection of Experiences.....	58
What is a Community School?.....	60
The Community Survey of Educational Resources.....	61
Teachers Study Community Life.....	62
A Definite Place in the Curriculum.....	62
Firsthand Experiences Through Excursions.....	64
Other Types of Firsthand Experiences.....	65
Community Cooperation.....	69
Actual Participation by Children in Social Living.....	70
Summary	72
Bibliography	73

V. PROCEDURE FOR DEVELOPING AN INTEGRATIVE CURRICULUM

John A. Hockett 75

The Meaning of an Integrative Curriculum.....	75
The Teacher's Role as a Guide.....	78
The Selection and Initiation of an Area of Experience.....	79
Keeping the Unit Moving in Profitable Directions.....	81
Scheduling the Day's Program.....	84
Arranging the Educational Environment.....	85
The Teacher's Planning.....	86
Bibliography	88

VI. NEWER PRACTICES INVOLVING INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Natalie White 90

Education in Early Civilization.....	90
The Influence of Science on Education.....	92
Guidance in the Use of Industrial Arts.....	95
The Distinction Between Craftwork and Industrial Arts.....	97
Industrial Arts in a Study of California History.....	98
Industrial Arts in a Study of Modern China.....	107
Conclusion	113
Bibliography	114

VII. NEWER PRACTICES INVOLVING DRAMATIC PLAY

Corinne A. Seeds 116

What is Dramatic Play?.....	117
Characteristics of Dramatic Play at Different Age Levels.....	122
What are the Educational Values of Dramatic Play?.....	124
Play with "Moving Things" Leads to Community Living.....	128
Bibliography	142

VIII. NEW EMPHASIS ON THE UNDERSTANDING OF SCIENCE

Gladys L. Potter 143

Status of Science Teaching Not Comparable with Its Importance	144
The Purpose of Science Teaching.....	148
The Scientific Method.....	150
Science Education in an Integrative Program.....	154
Summary	165
Bibliography	166

IX. NEWER PRACTICES IN THE TEACHING OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION

John F. Bovard, Martha B. Deane,Hazel J. Cubberley, Frederick W. Cozens 167

Background for Some of the Newer Emphases.....	167
Four Motives That Influence Physical Education Programs...	168
Newer Practices in the Teaching of the Dance.....	172
Newer Emphases in the Sports Program.....	178

CHAPTER	PAGE
The Increase in the Number and Diversity of Activities....	179
The Inclusion of Coeducational Classes in the Regular Program	182
Closer Contact Between the Home, the School, and the Community	182
Newer Practices in the Teaching of Competitive Athletics for Boys	187
Conclusion	190
Bibliography	191
 X. READING IN THE EXPERIENCE CURRICULUM Julia L. Hahn	192
Reading in Relation to Child Development.....	192
Reading, a Social Process Built Upon Experience.....	194
The Role of the Teacher.....	194
The Problem of Reading Readiness.....	197
Early Recognition of the Problem.....	197
Kindergarten and Primary Grades.....	198
Intermediate Grades	199
Discovering and Increasing Reading Readiness in the Kindergarten	201
Discovering and Using Reading Readiness in the Primary Grades	204
Using Reading Readiness in the Intermediate Grades.....	207
A Study of Homes and Home Life in Washington.....	207
Bibliography	213
 XI. THE USE OF THE SCHOOL LIBRARY Nora Beust	215
Organization	215
Personnel	218
Pleasure Reading	218
Reference Service	221
Library Instruction	223
Reading Guidance	224
An Integrating and Cooperative Factor in the School.....	226
Service to Teachers.....	229
Vocational and Avocational Guidance.....	230
Criteria for Testing the Book Collection.....	231
Summary	231
Bibliography	232
 XII. THE ARTS IN MODERN SCHOOL PRACTICE Blanche Kent	234
Present Day Needs and Opportunities.....	235
Criteria for Judging a Creative Arts Program.....	237
Creative Arts an Integrative Part of the Educational Program	238
The Underlying Psychology of Creative Expression.....	239
Experience a Primary Need.....	239
Maturation	242

CHAPTER	PAGE
Readiness	244
Motives and Satisfaction.....	245
Exploration	248
Development of Creative Expression in the Elementary
School	249
Music and Rhythms.....	249
Dramatics	250
Speaking and Writing.....	251
Plastic and Graphic Arts.....	253
The Creative Attitude.....	254
The Function of the Special Teacher.....	255
A Study of Pioneer Life.....	256
Various Aspects of the Study.....	258
The Pioneer Play—Maine to Ohio.....	262
Interest and Need Precede Practice for Skill.....	264
The Function of the Teacher.....	265
Evaluating the Creative Arts Program.....	266
Bibliography	267
 XIII. NEWER PRACTICES IN ARITHMETIC	 268
Peter L. Spencer
Changing Conceptions Regarding the Nature of Arithmetic..	268
Psychological Bases of Instructional Methods.....	271
Should Arithmetic Learning be Incidental to Other Types of
Experiencing?	273
When Should the School Program of Arithmetic Instruction Begin?	273
What Sequential Order of the Units of Instruction is Best
Adapted to Children's Learning?.....	275
What is the Best Grade Placement for the Different Units of Instruction?	277
Are Errors with Number Facts and Processes Specific or
Variable?	277
How Shall Long Division be Taught?.....	279
What is the Status of the Verbal Problem?.....	279
Bibliography	280
 XIV. THE USE OF NEWER TYPES OF INSTRUCTIONAL MATERIAL	 282
Lillian A. Lamoreaux
Learning from Direct Experience.....	283
Participating in the Community.....	284
Manipulative Experience	287
Learning from Vicarious Experience.....	289
Motion Pictures	289
Radio Programs	296
Reading Materials	301
Bibliography	305

XV. EVALUATION OF NEWER INSTRUCTIONAL PRACTICES

	J. Wayne Wrightstone	307
Newer Conceptions of Pupil Growth.....		308
Newer Trends in Evaluation.....		310
Newer Trends of Instructional Practice.....		311
Evaluating Growth in Functional Information.....		313
Evaluating Growth in Work-Study Skills.....		314
Evaluating Growth in Attitudes.....		315
Evaluating Growth in Interests.....		317
Evaluating Growth in Critical Thinking.....		318
Evaluation in Personal-Social Adaptability.....		319
Evaluating Growth in Creative Expression.....		322
Evaluating Physical Growth.....		323
Tentative Principles for Evaluating Newer Instructional Prac- tice		325
Bibliography		327

XVI. SUPERVISORY TECHNIQUES ADAPTED TO NEWER TEACHING

PRACTICES	Maycie Southall	328
Certain General Adaptations.....		328
Supervisor's Functions Expanded.....		328
Improvement Cooperatively Undertaken.....		329
Supervision More Democratic.....		330
Evaluation Receiving More Attention.....		331
Adaptation of Special Supervisory Techniques.....		333
Teachers' Meetings		333
Professional Associations and Conventions.....		335
Teachers' Institutes		335
Travel Seminars		336
Camps		337
Workshops		338
Studio Groups and Clubs.....		338
Demonstrations		340
Clinics		341
Intervisitations		341
Educational Motion Pictures.....		342
The Radio		342
Excursions		343
Committee Work		344
Curriculum Revision		345
Experimentation and Research.....		345
Supervisory Visits		346
Individual Conferences		347
Supervisory Bulletins and Handbooks.....		347
Teachers' Libraries		348
Materials Bureau		348
Summary		350
Bibliography		350